Study Programmes

Undergraduate degrees

Business Administration & Economics

The Bachelor Programme is an interdepartmental degree course that provides the competencies and the conceptual and methodological tools useful to cope with the complexity of a global economy. The programme presents a multidisciplinary approach, dealing with concepts and models from Management, Economics, Finance and Quantitative Methods.

Global Governance

A highly interdisciplinary Bachelor of Arts in Political Sciences, this three-year degree enables students from all over the world to understand and learn to master emerging global challenges. Dynamic teaching methods, social skills acquisition and teamwork characterise the student-oriented Global Governance environment.

Economics and Finance

The Bachelor Degree course in Economics and Finance provides a thorough grounding in economics and finance. The programme examines issues central to the real world: how the economy and financial institutions behave, and how resources are allocated and coordinated.

Economics and Management

The Bachelor Degree Course in Economics and Management prepares students for a professional career in the fields of Business Administration and Management, Auditing and Accounting and Company Law. The programme provides essential tools to understand markets, business behaviour, process management and control in economic environments.

Business Administration

The MSc in Business Administration is a two-year programme internationally open, practice-oriented and job-market driven. MSc provides for a solid management background allowing students to choose from 6 different areas of specialization representing different fields of expertise.

Economics

The MSc is a programme of scientific excellence; it offers training for a career as professional economist in government, central banking, international organizations or private sector firms. The advanced and quantitative nature of the programme also serves as an excellent foundation for PhD programmes.

Kindly note: not open for undergraduate students

European Economy and Business Law

The MSc in EEBL is an interdisciplinary Programme in Economics, Law and Business with focus on European and international institutions. It aims to meet the demand for experts in public administration and transnational bodies operating at a global level, as well as in private companies and businesses.

Finance and Banking

The MSc in Finance and Banking is a programme designed to offer the theoretical and analytical skills for a successful career in the worldwide finance industry as well as in international institutions as a financial economist.

Kindly note: not open for undergraduate students

Economics and Finance

The MSc Programme in Financial Markets and Financial Intermediation aims to develop high skilled students in the field of economics, financial markets, quantitative finance and financial intermediation to work in an international context.

Economics and Management

The MSc Programme in Economics and Management is designed for high profile students who want to operate in the fields of business and institutional management.
