

Sezen Kayhan

Short Bio

Sezen Kayhan earned her Joint PhD in Communication Studies at Koç University and the University of Antwerp, in 2020, with a dissertation on the relation between media production/consumption and urban transformation in Istanbul. She also worked in various films and TV dramas in Turkey and in the US for several years. She has held awards and grants from the Istanbul Research Institute, SALT Research and The Scientific and Technological Research Council of Turkey. Her writings have appeared in prestigious peer-reviewed journals including Television and New Media, Critical Studies in Television, Visual Studies, Space and Culture and New Perspectives on Turkey. Currently she continues her studies as a postdoctoral researcher at Koç University.