The UC Exchange

(<https://relacionesinternacionales.uc.cl/alumnos-uc/pregrado>) Program allows undergraduate and master's degree students from Universidad Católica to take one or two semesters of non-degree studies in a foreign university that is under agreement with UC, while maintaining their regular student status.

During the exchange, students continue to pay their tuition at UC and are released from paying tuition at the host university. During the exchange abroad, students retain their socio-economic benefits to fund their studies at UC, if they have any. Each student is responsible for all costs associated with their exchange (airfare, visa, health insurance, lodging, food, etc.), but there are a variety of scholarships for which they can apply.

College UC is a program that, in line with its own interdisciplinary essence, prepares its students to interact with the international model of education and, therefore, encourages student mobility both within Chile and abroad. Its model of higher education facilitates international recognition of studies, making exchange stays and continuation to graduate programs abroad more accessible.

College also has a dual degree program with the Institut d'études politiques de Paris, Sciences Po (France). This is a dual degree agreement for our students, which gives them the possibility of obtaining the corresponding College degree after one year at the Euro-Latin American campus in the city of Poitiers, and the Sciences Po diploma, which is recognized as a two-year Master's Degree at the Paris campus.
